WHEREAS:

- A. There is a responsibility by all to redress the systemic racism and to eliminate the gendered colonial violence perpetrated against Indigenous women, girls, and two-spirit, lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, queer, questioning, intersex and asexual (2SLGBTQQIA) people within Canada.
- B. The United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, which the government of Canada has adopted without qualification, and has, alongside the government of BC committed to implement, affirms:
  - i. Article 21(2): States shall take effective measures and, where appropriate, special measures to ensure continuing improvement of their economic and social conditions. Particular attention shall be paid to the rights and special needs of indigenous elders, women, youth, children and persons with disabilities.
  - ii. Article 22 (2): States shall take measures, in conjunction with indigenous peoples, to ensure that indigenous women and children enjoy the full protection and guarantees against all forms of violence and discrimination.

- C. The Assembly of First Nations (AFN) has worked with like-minded organizations to take action and bring attention to the critical and devastating issue of violence against Indigenous women, girls, and 2SLGBTQQIA people, including joining the call for a National Inquiry, and has been mandated by the AFN Chiefs to continue this work via Resolutions 57/2017, Support for National Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls, 78/2017, Support for the Extension of the National Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls, and has passed critical Resolutions that support and honor Indigenous women and girls including 30/2016, Declaration to Honour Indigenous Women and Girls, 4/2014, Support for First Nation and Federal Government Roundtable on Murdered and Missing Indigenous Women, 36/2014, Engagement and Representation on National Roundtable on Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls, and 06/2014, Protection of Indigenous Women Involved in the Sex Trade. The AFN has also continuously called for a national action plan to end violence against Indigenous women and girls, as mandated by Resolution 04/2013, Advancing a National Action Plan to End Violence Against Indigenous Women and Girls.
- D. A National Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls (“the National Inquiry”) was launched September 1, 2016, with a Terms of Reference to inquire into and report on systemic causes of all forms of violence against Indigenous women and girls in Canada, and to report by April 30, 2019. The Inquiry held Part I – Family, Part II – Institutional, and Part III – Expert Hearings, led by Chief Commissioner Marion Buller, and released its final report on June 3, 2019, in Gatineau, QC.
- E. The final report of the National Inquiry included 231 Calls for Justice, which “represent important ways to end the genocide and to transform systemic and societal values that have worked to maintain colonial violence.” The first Call for Justice states “We call upon federal, provincial, territorial, municipal, and Indigenous governments (hereinafter “all governments”), in partnership with Indigenous Peoples, to develop and implement a National Action Plan to address violence against Indigenous women, girls, and 2SLGBTQQIA people”.
- F. The National Inquiry found that Indigenous women are twelve times more likely to be murdered or to go missing than members of any other demographic group in Canada, and found that the deaths and disappearances constitute genocide, which Indigenous peoples and their allies have known and said for decades.
- G. Indigenous, front-line, grassroots, and women’s organizations participated in the movement created by the National Inquiry by producing their own submissions, and reports, which notably included the seminal report prepared by the Downtown Eastside Women’s Centre titled Red Women Rising: Indigenous Women Survivors in Vancouver’s Downtown Eastside, including 200 recommendations.

4. Direct the Assembly of First Nations to work with Indigenous, front-line, grassroots, and women’s organizations, and other like-minded organizations to advocate for the full and immediate, Indigenous-women led implementation of these recommendations.
5. Call upon federal, provincial, territorial, municipal, and Indigenous governments (hereinafter “all governments”), in partnership with Indigenous Peoples, to develop and implement a National Action Plan to address violence against Indigenous women, girls, and 2SLGBTQQIA people.
